OPENED FIRE AND GOT WARMED.

Rebels Fought Near La Loma Church.

Twenty-fifth Regiment's Tents Were Their Marks.

Americans Used Heavy Guns and Natives Retreated.

MANILA, Oct. 9, 1:30 p.m.—[By Manila Cable.]

[This afternoon a body of insurgents was seen near La Loma church, four miles from the heart of Manila. They opened fire, the bullets falling among the tents of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. The Americans manned the trenches and repelled at a range of 1200 yards. The insurgents voluntary, and the Americans used their artillery.

The fight lasted an hour, after which the insurgents retreated. One man was wounded. The scouts of the Twentieth Infantry are now reconnoitering.

Schwan's Advance.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MANILA, Oct. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]

The brigade of marines that took part in yesterday's land operations was composed of the men who distinguished themselves near La Loma. They were restless, indicating that they were aware that the attack was to be made, and a close watch was kept on them. Their turbulence was quickly suppressed. The police and provost guards are under arms, and strong patrols are moving about the disaffected portion of the town. At the time this dispatch is sent, 10:30 p.m., everything is quiet. The Thirteenth Regiment, part of Schwan's column operating in the country south and southwest of Bacoor, is now camping at Santa Cruz, near the shore of the bay. Schwan's headquarters is in a convent near San Francisco de Malabon.

There is frequent skirmishing between the Filipino and American outposts. The number of the enemy is estimated at 2000. An advance will be made in the morning on San Francisco de Malabon. The American baggage train has reached Rosario, which was occupied by Schwan's troops this morning. A Spanish prisoner who escaped to the American lines says the rebels have some artillery. They are short of ammunition, however, and it was this fact which caused them to evacuate Cavite Viejo and Noveleta yesterday.

At this point they encountered a heavy redoubt. Cos. B, C, and D obliqued to the right, and, moving through the rice fields, advanced by rushes. A second battalion deployed to the left and attempted a flank movement, which failed on account of the location of the redoubt, the only approach to which is by a single bridge, which spanned an affordably river, with steep banks. The fighting at the redoubt was fierce and close, and the marines were all exposed to the fire of the enemy. A few men of Co. D, Capt. Thorp, and Co. C, Capt. Porter, succeeded in getting across the river. They clambered up the bank and reached the redoubt, putting the enemy to flight. They lost three men killed and thirteen wounded, among the latter a surgeon who was caring for the wounded.

COAST RECORD.

THOUGHT HONOLULU A FULL-FLEDGED AMERICAN PORT.

On His Arrival at Tacoma He is Notified of His Error and Compelled to Return to Port Townsend.

Violation of the Quarantine Laws Costs Him a Five-thousand-dollar Fine and Much Time and Trouble.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TACOMA (Wash.), Oct. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By supposing that Honolulu was a full-fledged American port, Capt. Aas of the brig Honolulu has incurred a fine of $5000 for his vessel and an expense of $300 for towing his vessel 200 miles, together with incidental costs. The Honolulu authorities gave the brig a clear bill of health. Seeing the American flag flying from the custom-house, his vessel having been examined and certified to by American officials, Capt. Aas naturally concluded he was clearing from one American port to another, and that his next encounter with quarantine or customs officials would be at Tacoma. He accordingly sailed past the quarantine station at Port Townsend, favorable wind bringing him nearly to Tacoma before a tug was needed.

Last night the tug Boyden, from Port Townsend, appeared and notified Capt. Aas that he had violated the quarantine laws and must return to Port Townsend. With many anathemas and forceful inquiries of the official as to "how a skipper was to know where he was at" in these days of annexation, the Geneva's captain hoisted anchor and returned to Townsend in tow. As usual, an attempt will be made to have the government remit the fine.

TEMPLARS' GRAND LODGE.

Delegates Assembling for Three-day Session at Fresno.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) FRESNO, Oct. 9.—The delegates to the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge I.O.G.T., assembling for session tomorrow, and which will continue for three days, are arriving. Theodore Kanouse of Glendale, Grand Chief Templar of the World, and Grand Secretary F. A. Anthony, are on hand, also the Auditing Committee, ex-Judge Walling of Nevada City, and Herman Cook of Pasadena, who spent the morning visiting the home of Grand Secretary and Treasurer and of the Orphans' Home.

Tonight an executive session to complete the report from the records of subordinate lodges on lodges and other matters will be held. The Grand Lodge will be held. The Grand Lodge will convene tomorrow, and confer the degree of Grand Lodge Deputy, and in the evening a public reception at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with addresses, will follow.

FIRE FIGHTERS BUSY.

Flames in Mountains Around San Jose Beyond Control.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) SAN JOSE, Oct. 9.—The which has prevailed in the Santa Cruz Mountains for some days is still burning today, and no one can tell where it will end. Under the scorching sun and hot wind yesterday it spread rapidly, and got beyond control. Many were out fighting to save their property and help went from here, but still there was large loss.

All through the night the blaze could be seen from San José. It was plainly visible at 6 o'clock this morning, but later in the day was obscured by the heavy smoke which hangs over the valley.

Statements differ as to the loss so far caused by the flames, being placed at all the way from $50,000 to $150,000, the latter figure probably being too high. The places burned over are scattered, so that it may be a day or so before the estimate will be accurate, even if no more damage is done.

J. McCracken lost two residences yesterday and several acres of vineyard. Others who have losses are E. C. Yocco, John C. Cook, H. W. Allard, and E. F. Adams. Vineyardists especially suffer, since, if the fire gets a sweep across them they are utterly ruined.

A telephone message from Wright's to the Herald, shortly before noon today, stated that the fire is raging fiercer again, and is going northeast toward Los Gatos Cañon.

G. W. Lincoln and a man named Moon have lost their residences. The nearest fire to Wright's is in Austin Gulch, about a mile and a half away. Great quantities of timber is being destroyed. Unless the fire is checked soon it may cause serious damage to the narrow-gauge railroad. A big rain is prayed for by people in the mountains.

FEARFUL DESTRUCTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN JOSE, Oct. 9.—The fire in the Santa Cruz Mountains again sprung up today, and caused fearful destruction, chiefly to timber land. At Wright's Station much good was done by back-firing. Among the losses was the residence of A. A. Stammer of the Los Gatos Cañon. The barn, fruit house and vineyard of Cook Allard were destroyed. The French lumber mill, ten miles from Los Gatos, are a total loss. Other losses were: E. Moon, house and barn; H. W. Woods of San Francisco, pumping-house and machinery; San Jose Water Company, derricks, tools and implements; the new dam, Ralph Thompson's house on Skyland Ridge, and J. Lincoln's house near Sulphur Springs were burned. It is the greatest forest fire in the memory of the oldest residents of that section.

SOLID FIERY MASS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 9.—The forest fires which have prevailed in this vicinity are not yet under control. The weather today is very warm. Travelers say that near Skyland there seems to be a solid mass of fire for several miles. A north wind has sprung up, fanning the flames in a southerly direction until now they are within two miles of Skyland.

No alarm appears to be felt by the residents of Skyland, and it is expected that the fire will soon be under control. No very great damage has been done, as the country is covered with brush.

NEAR WRIGHT'S STATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 9.—Every man and boy obtainable is now fighting the forest fire, which is now within a mile of Wright's Station. The wind has shifted around, so danger of the flames reaching the station is greatly lessened.

MANY HOMES DESTROYED.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 9.—The residence of J. A. Hoffman, eight miles from Boulder Creek, was destroyed and a house owned by A. Stammer was also destroyed. About forty thousand gallons of wine were used to extinguish the flames in Meyer's winery at Skyland, men who were moving a school quit work to respond to a call from neighbors whose homes were in peril.

E. Moon and his family, residing at Skyland, had narrow escapes, the fire having reached their home before it was discovered. They lost everything but saved their lives by speedy flight.

NORTHERN HOT SPELL.

Record Broken at Sacramento—Drought at Fresno.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 9.—Local weather bureau reports show the highest temperature yesterday to have been 95 deg., which is the highest ever recorded at so late a date in the month. The greatest maximum in the past twenty-three years was 98 deg., on October 3, 1895.

Last night was among Sacramento's hottest nights. The minimum temperature did not fall below 72 deg., which was the hottest night ever felt in the city.

A hot north wind is blowing today. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer registered 90 deg.

DRESSING HER OVER.

COLUMBIA MUST CUT MORE OF A DASH.

"Wise Guy" of the Gotham Press Declares as a Fact That the People Who Will Run Her are Worrying.

Also States as a Fact That Shamrock People are Calm and Confident. More Predictions from the Weather Prophet.

Three Favorites Win at Morris Park-Headlight II Barred-Sale of Morris-Walden Stock-The English Cricketers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—There was a buoyant feeling of expectancy and excitement among the yachtmen last night, not that they feel sure of a race tomorrow, but that they know every day will be a race day from now out to the finish, with the exception of Wednesday. The agreement of the Regatta Committee and the Shamrock and Columbia people has proved popular. It is a fair proposition, and every one likes the manner in which it is met.

This has been a foggy day down around the Horseshoe, and everything has been quiet with the fleet there, except on the decks of the Columbia, where the crews have been cutting and refitting sails. This is taken in yachting circles to indicate nervousness. There is nothing to be gained in trying to put aside facts. They are worrying on the Columbia; they are calm and confident on the Shamrock. The reason for all this is that the English boat has done the better work on the three days of the flukes.

The weather is the important thing now. Three days of drifting have changed the character of the speculation. It is now quite as much "Will there be a race?" as "Which will win?"

The weather man at Washington predicts a rather inclement day. If this prediction is fulfilled, the racers will be sent over the line to windward down the Jersey coast, the course the same as Saturday, but the order of sailing will be reversed, the first leg will be to windward with a run home. This will be more satisfactory, as it gives a better chance for skill in maneuvering for the weather berth at the start.

WEATHER PROSPECTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The local weather bureau today gave out the following:

"WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—There is every indication that the race track will be favored by southerly winds, which will freshen during the afternoon.

LAID BILLY LOW.

McGovern Beats Rocheford in About One Minute.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—It took Terry McGovern, the bantam-weight champion, about one minute to decide tonight's encounter with Billy Rocheford of Chicago, at Tattersall's. The men were scheduled to go six rounds, but McGovern went at Rocheford in much the same way he attacked Pedlar Palmer a month ago in New York, and the result was about the same. He went at his man fiercely and Rocheford was soon helpless and groggy. He tried vainly to save himself by clinching, but McGovern had the same terrific work at close range, he did get Palmer with the result that the Chicago lad was laid low at the end of one minute.

Philadelphians not Equal to the English Cricketers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The match between the English cricketers and the Gentlemen of Philadelphia was continued today on the Germantown Cricket Club's grounds, and was notable for the poor batting of the Americans. The ball plied slowly, owing to a wicket softened by rain.

When stumps were drawn for the day, the Englishmen were all out for 26 runs, and the Americans had been retired in their first inning for 85. They began the second inning, and made a total of 46 runs for two wickets.

STEEPLECHASE KILLED.

Judges Ruled Boyd Off Hawthorne Track While He Was Dead.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—J. Boyd, a well-known steeplechase rider, was killed at Hawthorne today. The accident occurred in the third race, a steeplechase. As the horses swung toward the fence, Boyd swerved his mount, Globe II, with the seeming intention of carrying Cheese Mite out of the course. He succeeded, but Globe II crashed against the wing of the hurdle and turned a complete somersault, colliding with and knocking down Three Forks and crushing Boyd so badly that he died while being conveyed to the hospital.

The judges, ignorant of the extent of Boyd's injury, ruled that the accident of Boyd in crowding Cheese Mite out of the course, and ruled him off the track before the news of the unfortunate jockey's death was received.

Windsor Winners.

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—A majority of the betting choices won at Windsor today over a fast track. The weather was overcast.

The weather man at Washington predicted a rather inclement day. If this prediction is fulfilled, the racers will be sent over the line to windward down the Jersey coast, the course the same as Saturday, but the order of sailing will be reversed, the first leg will be to windward with a run home. This will be more satisfactory, as it gives a better chance for skill in maneuvering for the weather berth at the start.

WEATHER PROSPECTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The local weather bureau today gave out the following:

"WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—There is every indication that the race track will be favored by southerly winds, which will freshen during the afternoon.

Funston and the Kansas Regiment Objects on Interest at Yokohama—Work on the Morgan City Fire and Plague—Fatal Typhoon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The steamer City of Peking, from Hongkong and Yokohama, via Honolulu, arrived here today and brings the following news from Honolulu, under date of October 2:

"It has been decided by the United States government to keep two steamers constantly plying between San Francisco and Honolulu with horses and forage and two between this city and Manila, the intention of the stop here being to make the trip between San Francisco and Manila easier for the animals. It is understood that the Leelanau, the Centennial and another steamer will be landing their goods.

"Opium smuggling into the port of Honolulu is becoming very prevalent, and almost every in-coming vessel has a stock of the contraband stuff on board which is smuggled into the other States and Territories in the exposition grounds. The government will at once begin the work of gathering the exhibit. It is intended to make the display as complete as possible.

"The transport Sherman arrived from San Francisco September 30 and the hospital-ship Relief arrived September 27.

"The German bark Theodore, Capt. Arfmann, put into port in distress September 28. She had been 180 days at sea, bound for San Francisco from London. Twenty-nine days ago she encountered a storm that broke her foremast and sent the fore-topgallant mast crashing through the deck. The captain at once directed the vessel's course toward Honolulu, the nearest port."

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 25.—[Associated Press Correspondence wired from San Francisco, Oct. 9.] The Twentieth Kansas Regiment has come and gone, adding materially to the very favorable impression made by all the American troops who have passed through here.

"The one man who has been the center of attraction has, of course, been Gen. Funston. His modest bearing and strong personality have made him as great a favorite among the citizens as he is manifestly among the men of his regiment.

"The Newport on its homeward voyage, had on board a large contingent of discharged soldiers. These men, finding that they outnumbered the rest of the passengers, and filled with an overwhelming sense of the responsibility of their position, took possession of the ship and driving the officers from their quarters, installed themselves therein, being given a large cabin. One of the men, however, was arrested by the mutineers.

CHURCH IN POLITICS.

FRENCH CLERGY OPENLY HOSTILE TO THE REPUBLIC.

M. Cornely Says the Dreyfus Affair Was Utilized by Monarchs and Clerics to Make Onslaughts on the Government—The Work of the Croix.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Tribune's Paris correspondent says that the militant attitude of the Roman Catholic clergy of France, from the very outset of the Dreyfus agitation, may be followed by far-reaching consequences. Not since the clerical encroachments which led to the coup d'état of May 16, 1877, have the French clergy taken such violent part in active politics.

M. Jonnart, the influential Deputy from the Pas du Calais, a moderate Conservative Republican and a Liberal Catholic, who occupied the portfolio of Minister of Public Works in the Casimir-Perier ministry, in 1882, has written a remarkable letter to M. Cornely in which he points out that the Dreyfus affair has been utilized by the clerics and monarchists solely as a pretext for making a desperate onslaught upon the republic and upon all liberal institutions and ideas. M. Jonnart's views are endorsed by the Figaro, Le Temps, the Matin, the Siecle, the Aurore, and by all the newspapers that had the courage of their honesty to espouse the cause of truth and conscience. Clear-headed, conservative critics like M. Cornely and M. Jonnart, do not hesitate to declare that the open hostility of the French clergy toward the republic is such that the fear is that there will be anti-clerical reprisals, but that when these reprisals once begin, they will become so vindictive that no one can say where they will end.

The Radical and Socialist press already have taken the position of the Jesuits and all the religious congregations. The clerics utterly ignore the encyclical which Leo XIII recently addressed to the French bishops, enjoining them in mild academic language to use their influence to make the participation of the lower clergy. This encyclical is very different from the forcible one of February 16, 1892, in which the Pope so clearly indicated to French Catholics that it was their bounden duty to accept the authority of the firmly-established form of government. Both of these papal admonitions are unheeded and the clerical organs, more violent than ever, declare that in order to be a good Catholic, one must first of all be an "anti-Dreyfus."

During the last five years, the religious congregations, which were dispersed in 1880, have reestablished themselves, and, adroitly profiting by the clerical encroachments, have regained their former power.

This is especially so with the Jesuits and the Assumptionists of Paris. It is the Assumptionists who have their headquarters in the Rue Francois, and who began the fierce opposition against Dreyfus. Under the leadership of Fathers Picard and Baillie, who threw themselves into the movement with an impassioned conviction worthy of Peter the Hermit, the Assumptionist newspaper, the Croix, was converted into an effective instrument to attain their ends.

The Croix was founded twenty years ago. Although rarely seen outside of France, it has an enormous influence with French Catholics. The subscription list opened in the columns for the Home of the Church of the Sacred Heart at Mont Martre speedily assumed a sum of nearly $200,000.

Its Paris editions are estimated to have a circulation of 200,000. There are over sixty subsidiary Croix throughout the country districts. There is a Croix de Rennes, the Croix D'Avrigne, the Croix D'Orbeaux, and there are Croix in every department and important town of France. All these Croix have a general appearance. In the left-hand corner is a large figure of the crucifixion with this motto: "Adventul Regnum Tuum." There is a prominent tablet in the Leagues of Justice which purely military topics are treated and in which answers are given to all sorts of queries from soldiers relating to their comfort and welfare in barracks or elsewhere.

The Croix has a circulation in the army and it is distributed to soldiers gratuitously. The price of the paper, which usually consists of eight pages, is 1 cent. It was in the Croix that the subscription was started to commemorate the memory of the late Col. Henry. The Croix wrote on September 12, contained the following editorial reference to the Rennes verdict: "Justice has been done, Dreyfus has been condemned. As Frenchmen we rejoice over it. As Catholics, we rejoice over it. God for it."

When Dreyfus was pardoned, the Croix published the following in large characters:

DISCONTINUED IN SAMOA.

GERMAN RESIDENTS CHARGED WITH PLOTTING WITH MATAFA.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that some apprehension is felt in official circles over the condition of affairs prevailing in Samoa. The State Department is without complete advice from Consul-General Osborne regarding the situation, but sufficient is known to make the authorities understand that the natives are again plotting. It is not believed, however, that the world is in danger of the fighting which occurred last April, unless there has been a heavy importation of arms, which is expressly forbidden by the provisions of the Berlin treaty. It will be recalled that when the Badger returned from Samoa, she brought in huge loads of arms, including rifles and natives. These rifles are now in the armory at Mare Island, awaiting the disposition of Great Britain, Germany and the United States.

The Dreyfusards were themselves astonished at the haste with which President Loubet had condemned Dreyfus, of whom they counted upon another trial, from which they anticipated an acquittal. They were forced to abandon this project under the threat of the production of a photograph of the original borderer, which was an amateur of the German Emperor, the handwriting of which the following copy is certified as absolutely authentic: "Send me as soon as possible the documents mentioned. See to it that that canaille Dreyfus hurries up."

The Croix of September 23, published telegrams from Cannes announcing that Dreyfus had "Passed through the railway station there on his way to Monaco, where he would pass the winter."

As it is a matter of common notoriety that Dreyfus is with his family at Carpentras, the only inference is that this false news was sent to prejudice the public against Dreyfus, whom it usually refers to as "that traitor."

It must be remembered that the Croix is the most popular and widely-read religious organ in France. It enjoys the higher Republican patronage and has done more than any other instrument to poison the public conscience in regard to Dreyfus, as may readily be imagined from the instances already recited.

With the Democratic party, which has the other nomination to bestow, the chances of Dewey's selection is hardly great. The anti-Bryan Democrats are all in favor of him, but their support does not count just now.

The worship of Bryan has become a fanaticism; 75 per cent of the persons who are shouting loudly for him at least realize the absurdity of his nomination, and the weakness of the issue which he has raised. But there are afraid they will be read out of the party if they say so, and so they go to an opposite extreme. The more a man is at heart opposed to Bryan, the more he will be hit in the back of loyalty to him, provided he aspires to prominence in the Democratic party. There is little hope of doing anything for this idol worship in the near future.

Another crushing Presidential defeat may do it, but anything short of that will prove ineffective. The outlook for Dewey, then, in that party is not flattering.

This is a world of sudden change, however, and in the event of any such sudden change, look for Dewey.

NEEDED POLICE REORGANIZATION.

To many good citizens, and to The Times also, it appears evident that the time has come for a much-needed, thorough and efficient reorganization of the Los Angeles police force. Such reorganization is required for the public interest, and it should be made in the public interest solely, and not for the personal benefit of individuals, whether they be policemen, politicians, Councilmen, Commissioners or influential citizens. The general good is supreme, and all public servants must be made to recognize this paramount truth.

In the reorganization—which must come sooner or later, because the popular demand, once aroused, will not be denied—these principles should and must be recognized:

(1) Put none but good men on guard.

(2) Appoint or reappoint no man over the stipulated age, unless it be for overruling public reasons, which should be made to appear to the public. No star-chamber business.

(3) Appoint no man of doubtful private character or habits; no mere hangers-on; no ward-workers, strikers for local statesmen, men with a "push" or a "pull"; no men for the sake of their politics whatever those politics may be.

(4) Appoint or leave upon the force no man who spits hairs about hours, duties, details, or other requirements that may be made of him by the Chief in the execution of his public duty. A policeman should hold himself like a soldier—always ready to march or to fight.

(5) Give the gallant and worthy returned volunteers—the men who have so lately come back from the firing line in the distant Orient—a fair chance in the new appointments.

(6) The Council gives orders to the Police Commission, and the Commission to the Police Chief. Let these orders be lawful, right and in the interest of police efficiency and the public service; and then let them be enforced.

(8) Arm the head of the force with large and sound discretion in the serious work of handling the important body of men under him; see that his authority is respected by every man of the corps; relieve him of unauthorized interference by individual Commissioners; hold him responsible for the efficient execution of his trust—for the strict performance of all his duties—and then sustain him "right up to the handle" so long as he proves capable and worthy.

This is The Times' idea, in essence, of police reorganization.

THE DANGER THAT THREATENS.

The City Engineer has offered some remarks regarding sunholes in the oil district which are deserving of immediate consideration at the hands of those interested, particularly those whose homes align the streets that are likely to be flooded with the nasty stuff which is at present impounded in ill-smelling holes in the vicinity of the oil wells. It is probably too much to expect the owners of these wells to do anything for the protection of their neighbors unless compelled to do so by the city authorities. The sunhole and the unused derrick should be declared a nuisance by ordinance, and a penalty affixed for maintaining either of them within the incorporated limits of the municipality. The monstrous abuse which reigns in a certain portion of the city, and which threatens certain other beautiful and populous sections, must be given immediate attention, or the damage that will result to the city of Los Angeles will be incalculable. This is not a matter that can be temporized with or lightly passed by, but it is one that demands vigorous and immediate action on the part of those in authority whose duty it is to protect the interests of citizens against the encroachments of those whose selfishness and greed make them deaf to the appeals of their fellows, and indifferent to the principles of fair play.

The map of the Transvaal country and that of the stretch of water off Sandy Hook are now running each other neck and neck in the public eye.

"GERNALISM" IN GEORGIA.

Dahlonega, Ga., has a newspaper, the Nugget, which, for picturesqueness English and the uniqueness of its news, stands on a pinnacle all by itself. Here is a specimen brick:

"The other night some one caught Mr. Boarfield's calf and tied its feet together. He had been here over sixty years and in the first sixty years had nothing bothered. It seems to trouble the old gentleman very much."

Probably Georgia is the only State in the Union that is able to trot out a sixty-year-old calf that had never been bothered before in all that time. Here is some information about gender:

"Uncle Dick Whechel has a gender that accompanies him everywhere he goes. When the old gentleman visits a store the gender goes to the door and waits until he gets ready to go."

It must indeed be good to see the waiting for Uncle Dick when he goes to visit a store. But what does the poor bird do when Uncle Dick goes to a blacksmith shop?

There is trouble in the family of Little George Sissam. Please note what the Dahlonega Nugget says about him:

"It is reported that little George Sissam, who lives in our town, is going crazy. We heard his father-in-law tell Judge Tate the other day that he frequently has a pistol and keeps it always charged. George is not much larger than a big mouse, but he can pull the trigger to a quill in it. We just love to hear Jones sing."

Something is "doing" in the Philippines. The esteemed enemy is being kept chasing himself from one lagoon or bamboo thicket to another by our gallant troops, and the prospects are that the little brown man with the gun is to have the liveliest winter ever known in those far-away islands. Gen Schwann was after him on Saturday last along the Cavite Peninsula, and Gen. Fred Grant was also stirring up the rebels at another point. The moment is opportune for the "aunties" to enter a violent protest against this disturbance of the quiet of their esteemed friends, the enemies of the United States, who are taking pot shots at our soldiers on all possible occasions.

Premier Laurier declares that "the British system of government is superior to that of the American." The reason that the Premier is possessed of this opinion may be accounted for, perhaps, by the fact that he is a British subject.

The following would appear to indicate that in some respects Dahlonega is a few yards in front of the procession:

"Dahlonega intends to keep up with the times. The latest addition is a negro barber shop where the colored man can get a shave and a shave and his toenails trimmed all for the same price."

The assertion that the colored man is not given his rights in Georgia is shown by the foregoing to be wholly erroneous. We doubt if there is a barber shop north of Mason and Dixon's line where a man can get a shave, pay for it, for they come a long ways to have their kinky straightened and bear's oil put on their heads."

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The action of the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church South, on Friday last in Oaklawn, where it depposed from the ministry two men of that number for circulating "Dowle" literature, will find a responsive chord in the hearts of all men, denominational and otherwise. With this conference the reason was purely one of its own polity, but with the people at large it is because a rank fraud and arrant imposter will be stopped from circulating his blasphemous literature through the medium of that ministry. Dowle and "Dowleman" are the rankest exorcisms of a crime-laden age, and it is cheering to know that at last the law is being invoked to suppress both.

Reports come from Anaheim that plenty of water is in the irrigating ditches, and that the supply is rapidly increasing from natural sources, but "there is no indication of abatement in the development of new wells, as this supply has been largely responsible for the general success of the year." This is true and sufficient corroboration of all. The "Times" has claimed from the beginning, and gives undeniable proof that money expended for subterranean water as an auxiliary to the surface supply is well and wisely expended. The conviction is gaining steadily that the solution of the water problem for some years to come must be found in abundant well digging and pumping plants.

Notwithstanding the specious reasoning of a recent correspondent on the subject of forest fires, it does seem something effective should be done to check the devilish incendiary in his devastating work. Miles upon miles of the San Bernardino range, in its several districts, is burning and the watershed for the whole orange belt is threatened, yet nothing more tangible in the way of a return for the expense of maintaining a forest patrol is in evidence than the pay roll. If sheep herders or sheep men are guilty, why not punish them? Who looks after the individual patrolmen when on duty? Do the patrolmen even attempt the detection of an incendiary fire? If not, why not? Better to take a Gatling gun into the hills and kill sheep and herders both than risk the safety of the annual citrus crop.

The most offensive beggar of all in the degenerate race is the fellow who pleads imaginary service in army or navy to compel alms from patriotic men and women. One of this ilk recently ran up against a Phoenix (Ariz.) policeman, and told of how he was "blown up in the Maine." This policeman, with excellent horse sense, asked the war-worn hero to name the battery carried by the Maine. The hobo created a very good battery from his fertile imagination, and in such a ready manner as to compel belief. The officer, however, consulted a reference book available and found his fears true—the hobo was a liar and a fraud. The "Times" thus winds up the story: "While it may be possible that the scare of that awful night lengthened Mr. Conroy out five inches, the Recorder refused to believe it, and sentenced him to fifteen days on the chain gang." Los Angeles needs that copper right here, as already the low-lived hobo is manifest among us, and the local sleuths are not up on naval armaments, though they are dandies on shore arms.

It was discovered yesterday that the City Engineer had made a mistake in running the line indicating the oil limits and as a result of the correction the wells of Police Commissioner Parker were found to be outside the boundary. Councilman Pierce discovered the mistake. The report of the Fire and Water Committee on a change of boundaries did not materialize and the matter may be pocketed by the committee until some one else gets across the line. Mr. Parker expressed much pleasure as well as surprise at his good fortune, and said that he was glad if he might once more claim to be a law-abiding citizen.

The Council transacted a great deal of routine business at its sessions yesterday. The ordinance increasing the jurisdiction of the Oil Inspector was passed without dissent, and the one allowing bicycle racks to be placed on the sidewalk was referred back to the Board of Public Works for additional changes.

In the afternoon the Agricultural Park Association was granted a special privilege to sell liquor at the park district, and the recommendation of the Bridge Committee to sell certain land along the Los Angeles River to the Southern Pacific Company was adopted.

The Board of Health met yesterday and considered the sanitary conditions of the schools and also a new plumbing ordinance.

AT THE CITY HALL NOT INSIDE THE LINE.

PARKER'S OIL WELLS FOUND TO BE OUTSIDE THE BOUNDARY.

Mistake Made in Defining Limit. Large Variety of Business Transacted by the Council—The Board of Health Meets.

The oil fight was brought to a temporary termination yesterday morning by the discovery that the oil wells of Police Commissioner Parker are in reality outside the limit that protects the parks. Councilman Pierce, who drafted the present ordinance, discovered the mistake made by the City Engineer in defining the limit, and brought the matter to the attention of the City Attorney. After examining the present ordinance carefully and comparing it with a copy of the map made for the information of the Council, it was found that a strip of territory, about a block in width and three blocks long, which should have been left outside, had been included in the limits on the map.

The mistake was a very natural one, owing to the peculiar turning of the street and the indefiniteness of the ordinance after describing the contour line to the point where Ocean View avenue intersects Sixth street, the ordinance says that the line shall run westward in a line parallel with the north line of Sixth street, the intersection of the line with the north foot limit. Sixth street from Ocean View avenue to Hoover street, runs in a northwesterly direction. At Hoover street, Sixth street makes a sharp angle and runs directly west. The Clerk, however, and the City Attorney both got the impression that the line paralleled Sixth street to Hoover street and from there was prolonged to meet the 1600-foot limit. This line was taken off by the City Engineer at the request of the Council, and it was found that three wells belonging to Police Commissioner Parker were inside. A further investigation of the wording of the ordinance reveals the fact that the man had been in the intention of those who made the present regulations, the word "prolongation" is left out and the line as it actually exists turns west at Hoover street, following the north line of Sixth street 300 feet to the north. This leaves the wells of Commissioner Parker nearly a block outside the limit.

Mr. Parker was as much surprised as anyone that his present wells were outside, and was also sufficient to discover that the change of line left nearly half of the territory which he has leased free to development. The sudden change from the position of a citizen of the city of Los Angeles to one of the city's ordinances to that of a law-abiding citizen was especially pleasing to Mr. Parker, and he remarked that he was glad to find that he could be good for so long a time, though he could not care to drill wells below the actual line for quite a while yet. The land controlled by Mr. Parker extends to Wilshire boulevard, a block and a half below the limit, but the wells that have already been drilled will be allowed to stand for some months to come and he will not attempt to cross the line until they give out.

Mr. Parker claims that he had no idea that he was approaching on for-bidden territory when he drilled the wells that have been in dispute, but that he supposed the line run by the City Engineer must be correct, and he had determined to fight the question out in the Courts and in the Courts. The next time that he made the supposed protected territory, said he yesterday, "I shall do so with my eyes open. I have plenty of land on which to work for some time, and I am glad to find that I am once more to be considered as a law-abiding citizen."

The Fire and Water Committee inwhich had prepared a report, embodying some change in the present lines, is a probability that the whole matter will be pocketed in the committee until such time as the actual limit is crossed, when the matter may come up again. The real intent of the proposed ordinance of the committee was to rescue Mr. Parker from his supposed predicament, and as it has been found that he is outside the limit and without need of assistance it is likely that the matter will be left to the Fire and Water Committee to deal with it. The report is not expected to please W. L. Hardison and the other speculators who had hoped that the present lines might be changed so as to allow them to drill inside the protected territory, and at their instigation the question may come up for further consideration.

MORNING COUNCIL SESSION. Oil Inspector's Territory Extended. Danger from Sewers.

At the morning session of the Council yesterday the ordinance to extend the jurisdiction of the Oil Inspector, so that he could compel those drilling wells in the west-end district to conform to the same rules and regulations as are enforced in other parts of the city, was adopted. The ordinance was prepared over two weeks ago, but when presented to the Council it was found that one clause which it contained would cancel all existing ordinances, and it was referred back to the Fire and Water Committee.

The ordinance, as passed, prohibits the spilling of tools, drilling, spudding, washing, or any other activity about the wells that interfere with the quiet of the neighborhood, between the hours of 9 p.m. and 6 a.m., within certain limits as defined as follows:

"Commencing at the intersection of Buena Vista street and the bed of the Los Angeles River; thence southerly along the bed of said river to Macy street; thence westerly along Macy street to Main street; thence southerly along Figueroa street; thence southerly along Figueroa street to Pico street; thence westerly along Pico street; thence westerly along Main street to Figueroa street; thence westerly along Figueroa street to Buena Vista street; thence northerly on Buena Vista street to its intersection with the bed of the Los Angeles River, being the place of meeting of the boundaries."

The ordinance also contains a clause which amounts in effect to a reaffirmation by the Council of the limit designed to protect the parks. This section reads that the ordinance shall in no sense be interpreted to mean that drilling may be conducted inside the limit designed to protect the public parks, and describes the interdicted territory as follows:

"Being that certain territory embayed within an exterior line distant at all points 1600 feet from the exterior boundary of the Agricultural Park and Sunset Park, extending therefrom all that territory lying north and west of a certain line described as commencing at a point in said 1600-foot line, the west line of Alvarado street; thence southwesterly in a series of feet of the north line of Ocean View avenue; thence westerly on a line parallel with the north line of Sixth street to the intersection of said line with the said 1600-foot limit."

UNFLUSHED SEWERS.

Health Officer Powers believes that there is much danger to the health of the city from improperly-flushed sewers, and he yesterday sent the following communication to the Council: "I desire to call your attention to the urgent necessity of having the public sewer better flushed. We are in constant receipt of complaints of the foul condition of the sewers. The warm weather together with the number of cases of typhus fever never fails in the city prompts us to advise them not to delay in securing clean sewers."

President Silver remarked that the master should be attended to at once, as such a condition existed in the city as to occasion the Health Officer to report regarding the poor sanitary conditions, caused by a perfect flushing of the matter was of serious moment and should be given careful consideration by the Council.

At the request of Councilman Pessell the Street Superintendent was called in to explain the reason for the delay. He said that, in accordance with the orders of the Council, he had laid off three flushers on October 1. Within the last few days the office had received many complaints concerning the sewers, but was impossible with the few men now employed to properly attend to the sewers. "I believe that the Council made a mistake," said he, "when those three men were laid off, and I do not believe that it would have been done if the conditions had been understood. There is no time to be lost in getting the matter attended to in haste. The original intention of the Council had been to float the school bonds just to test the market before trying to sell the last inspection.

Mr. Baker thought that the matter was of too grave moment for action to be taken in haste. The original intention of the Council had been to float the school bonds just to test the market before trying to sell the last inspection.

Mr. Baker thought that as the matter had been in the hands of the Water Supply Committee, the bond issue should come before the Council from the committee, and not in the form of a resolution.

Mr. Todd was of the opinion that the matter could not be settled too quickly. The Council had been "dilly-dallying" with the water question long enough, and the time for action had come. It was finally decided to postpone action.

Councilman Pessell caused a diversion by moving that the City Clerks be instructed to advertise for bids on the water bonds, the bids to be opened on November 20. This motion was passed after considerable debate, but was afterward rescinded.

Mr. Vetter thought that the matter was of too grave moment for action to be taken in haste. The original intention of the Council had been to float the school bonds just to test the market before trying to sell the last inspection.

Mr. Todd was of the opinion that the matter could not be settled too quickly. The Council had been "dilly-dallying" with the water question long enough, and the time for action had come. It was finally decided to postpone action.

Councilman Pessell caused even more trouble by introducing a motion to request the Los Angeles City Water Company to make a proposition to the City for the use of its property which the company possessed, with the arbitrators' award. This would include the Crystal Springs plant, the Bellevue reservoir and the main supply ditch.

The motion was passed the preceding one, was first passed by a vote of four to three, and was afterward reconsidered and referred to the Water Supply Committee.

Councilman Vetter was afraid that the Water Company would think that the city was coming forward with a compromise, while he thought any movement in that direction should originate with the water company.

Councilman Baker said that he did not exactly understand the scope of the matter, and was of the opinion that the matter was of serious moment and should be given careful consideration by the Council.

structed to furnish the necessary ordinance.

The City Engineer presented the following ordinances, which were adopted: Final ordinance establishing the grade of Lake Shore avenue from Palo Alto street to Bellevue avenue; ordinance of intention to establish the grade of Concourse street; ordinance of intention to establish the grade of Fourth street; ordinance of intention for the grading of Albany street from Sixteenth street to Pico street under the bond act, at an estimated cost of 57 cents per front foot; ordinance of intention for the grading of Ocean View avenue from Ninth to Twelfth street, and Ramirez street from Center street to Lyon street; ordinance of intention for the grading of Washington street from Hoover street to Normandie avenue, under the bond act, at an estimated cost of $3.50 per front foot.

SUMPHOLE NUISANCE.

A man showing the location of most of the sumpholes in the oil territory to the Oil Inspector, recommended that some action be taken to prevent the waste oil from holes coming down the street gutters with storm water. Figueroa street, which is in the same area, have suffered severely on previous occasions, and the City Engineer pointed out the probable outcome if something is not done, in order that neither he nor the Street Superintendent be held responsible for any injury that may be done property from this source.

The report was referred to the Fire and Water Committee, with instructions to present an ordinance properly regulating the sumpholes.

It was moved under suspension of the rules, that the City Engineer be authorized to issue an ordinance of intention for grading of Elmira street between First and Court streets.

Councilman Baker moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to have Temple street from Spring to New High street swept every night.

Some of the members remarked that they have no representation in the City Council.

At the trial, plaintiff introduced in evidence First and Court streets.

The following protest was made by the residents of Elmira street against the proposed ordinance of an oil refinery in the neighborhood:

STUDENT OF WILD LIFE.

Ernest Seton Thompson Pays Los Angeles a Brief Visit.

Ernest Seton Thompson, author of "Wild Animals I Have Known," arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning, accompanied by his wife, who is the daughter of Albert Gallatin of San Francisco. Mr. Thompson is a naturalist, an author, and he illustrates his biographies of wild creatures with sketches from life. His stories of animals are not fairy tales, but authentic records made with scientific care and woven with literary skill into tales of absorbing interest. Thompson's animals do not talk, hold parliaments, pass laws or deliver philosophical lectures. They are not men dressed in skins of beasts.

To obtain data for these stories is but one purpose of the long trips in which he has made by the artist-scientist and his wife. Mr. Thompson has gathered much information concerning the distribution of big game in America that will be of scientific value.

Mr. Thompson has just returned from a camping trip in the high Sierra, and he leaves this morning for the Grand Canyon. After a visit to the cañon and a trip in the Rockies of Colorado, he will return to New York and work up the material gathered during the summer. He has been making a special study of the California grizzly, and a good story of the ways of Ursus horribilis will be the result.

The original drawings for the illustrations in "Wild Animals" have been left at Parker's book store and will be placed on exhibition there.

ALLEGED MURDEROUS ASSAULT

A San Pedro Enoch Arden Who Never Read Tennyson.

Edwin Jones of San Pedro lies in the County Jail charged with assault to murder. His preliminary examination will be held today and Asst. Dist.-Atty. Jones will look after the prosecution. Jones is a sailor, and a sort of an Enoch Arden in a way—but in his own way, not Tennyson's, several months ago he went to sea, leaving behind him his wife, a little baby daughter. While he was absent the woman took up with another man, and all ran serenely until Jones came sailing home again. His heart was filled with holy joy for the pleasure his home-coming would afford those he had chosen to call his own.

When, however, he learned what had transpired during his absence, instead of going quietly back to sea or living incognito in the community, a pitiable, half-crazed sailor, he turned to violence and manifested his displeasure forcibly.

On Saturday night somebody fired several shots through the window of a room in which the woman was sleeping, and it is supposed Jones is the guilty party. Since the shooting, it is noted yesterday in the District Attorney's office, Jones, however, avers that he can speedily prove that the author of the shots have laid hands on the wrong man.

On Saturday night somebody fired several shots through the window of a room in which the woman was sleeping, and it is supposed Jones is the guilty party. Since the shooting, it is noted yesterday in the District Attorney's office, Jones, however, avers that he can speedily prove that the author of the shots have laid hands on the wrong man.
